

CIVIC GROUP TO FORM PLANS FOR YOUTH CENTER

A meeting will be held at the Wilmington Theatre at 8:00 p. m. October 2 for the purpose of discussing and formulating plans for a Wilmington Youth Center. EVERY CITIZEN IN WILMINGTON IS INVITED AND URGED TO ATTEND.

The Rotary Club has donated land for a building and all the various organizations in town are getting behind the movement 100 per cent.

Perhaps we should go on to explain the idea behind this plan. As you well know, the nation is combating juvenile delinquency in various forms ranging from window breaking to the use of narcotics. The idea behind this Youth Center is to give Wilmington youngsters a chance, to take them off the streets and give them a place to let off their steam. The committee is trying to stop local juvenile delinquency before it reaches greater proportions. The local youngsters, as a whole, are good citizens and have not become a problem as yet. We do not have to explain what has occurred in other cities and towns in regard to juvenile delinquency and certainly are not of the school whose main doctrine is, "it can't happen here". IT CAN HAPPEN HERE. It's up to the older folks to see that it doesn't.

George Spanos, who started the movement, has stated that he would like to have the Y. M. C. A. come here. With the help of all the citizens perhaps this can be accomplished, but every adult in Wilmington has got to get behind this 100 per cent. IF YOU ARE INTERESTED IN THE FUTURE OF WILMINGTON'S YOUNGSTERS ATTEND THE MEETING... OCTOBER 2, 8:00 P. M. AT THE WILMINGTON THEATRE.

PLANNING BOARD MEETING

Messrs Strout and Wing, of the Reading firm of the same name, appeared before the Planning Board Monday night to discuss their new development, which is to be off Lowell Street, opposite the old Martin Holt home. A preliminary plan was presented to the board, of a new street, to be called Strout Ave., which will go to the eastward from Lowell Street, in the direction of Nickerson Ave., but which will not reach Nickerson Ave. A hearing was set for Oct. 8th.

A profile map of the Park St. Acres Addition was presented to the board, and accepted by them. It was voted to authorize Mr. Cooke to proceed with his new extension, which will be off Gowing Road, and will be known as Marcus Road. Mr. Cooke was enjoined to provide the customary water and street services.

The Board also voted to consult with the Town Manager, with respect to reviewing progress to date, expenditures, and plans for the future.

(Editors Note) Sometime past we carried a letter of resignation written by Mr. Manning, the Chairman of this Board. Mr. Manning was persuaded by Town Officials, and friends, to remain on the board, and he has done so. His resignation never became effective.

SUDDEN DEATH

John Brown, 45 years old, a commercial fisherman, of North Street, died suddenly at 8:50 a.m., Sept. 24th at the home of Earl Beddoes, who lives across the street from Brown. Mr. Brown, who has no telephone, was using the Beddoes telephone, and died while sitting in a chair. Mrs. Beddoes called Dr. Fagan, who notified the medical examiner, Dr. Devlin of Stoneham. Dr. Devlin pronounced his death due to heart trouble.

WOBURN COURT

Arthur P. Welch of Lowell pleaded guilty before Judge Henchy, at Woburn Court, on Sept. 24th, to a charge of failing to stop for a red light at the intersection of Grove Ave. and Main Street. He was fined $5.00. The arrest had been made by Officer Shepard.

BOARD OF APPEALS

David Elfman, of Middlesex Ave., appeared before the Board of Appeals, at 8 Monday evening, as attorney for Bessie Cohen, of the Wilmington Grain and Feed Company.

Mr. Elfman explained that Bessie Cohen was unable to appear, and that he was her attorney. He explained to the Board that there is already a gas pump, and tank for 2500 gallons, on the property of the Wilmington Grain and Feed, and the company is asking for the right to sell gasoline, not as a regular business, but purely as an accommodation for their customers. There was to be, Mr. Elfman went on, no changes in the structure, no new tanks or pumps, and the whole premise was that this was not a strictly commercial proposition, but rather of accommodation.

There were no witnesses against the proponents.

The Board took the case under advisement. Present were Messrs Woolaver, Ring, and Heldman.

WOBURN COURT

Stephen M. Vita of Boston, and Veronica Dell Isola pleaded guilty in Woburn Court, on Sept. 20th before Judge Henchy, to a charge of drunkenness. Both were found guilty, and their cases placed on file.

AMBULANCE

Mrs. Margaret Markey of Brand Ave., was taken to the St. John's Hospital in the Police Ambulance on Sept. 19th. Officer Markey drove. Dr. Fagan in attendance.

BOARD OF APPEALS

Genille Craik, of 15 Burlington Ave., appeared before the Board of Appeals on Sept. 24th to request the right to change his home into a two apartment building.

Mr. Craik explained his plans to the board, and pointed out that the house across the street was, and had been for some time, a two-family house.

Questioning by the board brought out the fact that Craik's land was apparently in two different zones.

There was no one to appear against the appellant.

THE NEW FLUORESCENT LIGHTS

The new fluorescent lights which are being mounted in the town hall are in three rows, lengthwise, in the hall. Two of the rows will have 400 Watts in light, while the third row, on the northerly side, will be 320 Watts. Each light will be independent, and it is expected that a considerable savings can be had.

RETURN TO SCHOOL

Wally and Nancy Barrows, children of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Barrows of High St., returned to school recently after undergoing a bout with the mumps.

JUNIOR C. D. A. HOLDS MEETING

Troop St. Anne, Junior C. D. A. held a meeting at the home of Dorothy DeFelice on Commonwealth Ave. under the leadership of Counselor, Evangeline Murray.

President Virginia Murray opened the meeting with prayers and the salute to the flag. Secretary Carmel Gillis read the roll call.

Members present were: Carmel Gillis, Dorothy DeFelice, Dorothy Kelly, Dorothy Rogers, Rose Marie Ballentine, Maureen McFenna, Sandra Harris, Virginia Murray, Jane and Alberta MacMullin, Georgianna Parks and Ann Cavanaugh.

Dues were collected by Treasurer, Dorothy DeFelice, and twenty minutes were spent on their honor program. This month the subject was questions and answers on the American Flag. Next month the topic will be the biography of a Saint.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Carmel Gillis on Randolph Road, October 3rd.

Refreshments were served by Dorothy DeFelice, assisted by Virginia Murray. Ann Cavanaugh won the prize of the evening.

HOUSE BREAK

The home of Charles Jeffries of 23 Boutwell Street was broken into sometime during the weekend or Monday. Police, who investigated, following a telephone call found that entry had been made through a side window, by drilling near a lock. The owner reported a pair of suede gloves, a piggy bank containing $2.00 and some magnetized ornamental dogs missing. Officer Markey and Cail investigated.

AMBULANCE CASE

Mrs. Cornish of Central Street was taken to the Winchester Hospital in the Police Ambulance on Sept. 19th at 11:00 p.m. Officer Markey and Baker in ambulance. Dr. MacDougal in attendance.

CHILD HIT BY CAR

Michael Burt, 2 year old, of 4 Coolidge Road was hit by a car driven by Robert J. Woods, of Beacon Street, according to a report given to the police. The child was on Hathaway Road at the time of the accident, which was at 1:15 p.m. Sept. 20th. He was taken to his family physician in Reading.

AMADAN VELA

The appeal of Amadan Vela, of Cambridge, for the right to erect a gas station, on the corner of Truman Road and Middlesex Ave., opposite the North Wilmington Post-office has been decided by the Board of Appeals. Vela has been notified that he should see the Building Inspector for a building permit, and the Board of Selectmen for other permits, as the site is already zoned for light industry.

BLACK KAT

The present owner of the Black Kat, or Blue Terrace, as it is sometimes called, has paid up his water bills, and there are indications that the tax bills will be paid in full before the deadline, Oct. 22nd. The lot is at present being used by the Oklahoma people, who are laying pipelines through this area.

WOMAN'S CLUB

The Wilmington Woman's Club will hold its first meeting in the Vestry of the Methodist Church on Thursday, October 4. Dessert at 1:15 P. M. will be followed by the regular business meeting at 2 P. M. The President, Mrs. Hebert Pickering will preside. There will be a short report on the Swampscott meeting by Mrs. John Russell.

A fashion show sponsored by Fan's Dress Shop in Woburn will be the entertainment of the afternoon.

Mrs. Charles Allgrove and Mrs. Walter Buckle are Chairman and Co-Chairman of the Refreshment Committee. They will be assisted by Mrs. Arthur S. Williams, Mrs. Rodney E. Buck, Mrs. Kenneth Kelley, Mrs. Dean Cushing, Mrs. Samuel W. Grant, Mrs. Robert B. Michelson, Mrs. Otis Maxfield, Mrs. Harold Melzer, Mrs. Edward M. Neilson, Mrs. John White.

The Executive Board and the President would appreciate a large attendance of members and friends at this meeting.

SCOUTS MEET

Sept. 21 the meeting of Troop 1 and 2 of Wilmington was held in the gym of the Junior High School at 7:30. Senior Patrol leader Thomas Coombs opened the meeting with the salute to the flag and the repeating of the scout oath.

Plans were made for a camping trip to start on Sept. 28th and continuing through September 30th. The regular Friday meeting next week will be held at Camp Forty Acres. Fathers and mothers will be welcome. Any boy who wishes to remain after the meeting for the camping trip may do so.

Father Regan was the guest for the evening.

SEARCHING AGAIN

Irving Appleby has been searching under water again, this time in the employ of the Detective Bureau of the Boston Police Department. The objects of the present search are three guns, two forty-fives and a thirty-eight which were thrown into the Charles River by a fugitive, just before his capture. Says Mr. Appleby, "these guns must be found, as this fugitive is wanted for robbery, and there is no telling what a gun can be traced to."

RECKLESS DRIVING

A car, whose number plates are known to the police, was reported to have been driven in a reckless manner, near Cain's Garage, on Sept. 22nd. The driving was reported to be such as to endanger the lives of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Lloyd of Hathaway Acres, who were driving their car on Main Street. Mrs. Lloyd was reported to have dropped her small baby, which she had been carrying, because of the excitement.

STREET SURVEYING

James White, and Alden N. Eames have been notified by the T.M. that hereafter, any bounds of public streets, which are determined, shall be marked off satisfactorily, by placing stone cement bounds. The purpose of this is to prevent the necessity of surveying, and resurveying the same tract of land.

OFFICIAL OPENING OF McLAUGHLIN REXALL DRUG

Wilmington's modern semi-self-service drug store, McLaughlin's Rexall Drug, will hold its grand opening on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week, September 27th, 28th, and 29th.

The old "drug store block" was gutted by fire more than a year ago. After extended litigation, Melville Woodside, Registered Pharmacist, owner and manager of McLaughlin's Rexall Drug, finally purchased the wrecked building. Aware of the fact that the building was considered an "eyeye-sore" to the majority of Wilmington residents, Mr. Woodside proceeded with his plans to erect a modern structure that eventually will be a two-story block with offices on the second floor. Local contractors were engaged in the construction of the entire building.

The partially finished building is, in the words of one teen-ager, "just out of this world." Within a short time work will be started on the remainder of the block, with several reliable concerns applying for the choice location.

Although the drug store has been operating in its present location for several weeks, it finally will be completed today and the welcome sign will be out. Plans have been made to make the official opening a memorable event. There will be balloons and ice cream for the youngsters: perfume for the ladies: gifts for the men, in addition to many souvenirs and special prizes. The feature of each evening will be the drawing of a door prize.

Police Chief Paul Lynch will draw the winning ticket for a General Electric Pop-Up Toaster at 8:30 Thursday evening. Fire Chief Arthur Boudreau will draw the winning ticket for an electric Mix-Master at 8:30 Friday evening, and Town Manager Dean Cushing will pick the lucky number for some boy or girl who will be presented with the Columbia bicycle at nine o'clock Saturday night.

Tickets for the door prizes are on every circular that is being distributed to every local family through the local post offices. The tickets are to be deposited in a box prominently displayed at the drug store. Extra help will be employed during the three-day sale that is packed with shout-about prizes.

ADAMS STREET

The T.M. is preparing to have Adams Street properly laid out, in the near future. Abutting property owners are being notified, according to a notice given the Selectmen in their meeting Monday night.

THE BUZZELL SCHOOL

Some time past, the Crusader carried an editorial article about the work that had been done recently on the Buzzell School, and the resulting feelings on the parts of some of the town's citizens. At that time we mentioned the concern felt because the roof had not been inspected by proper persons.

We are happy to report that Mr. John Moynahan, the Inspector, has recently inspected this roof, and has passed it as satisfactory.

THOSE WATER BILLS

One of our readers received a letter from the Town Manager the other day. It mentioned the sum of $7.50, and then went on to say:

"The Town Manager feels it is his duty to notify you that as of Oct. 1, 1951, the Town of Wilmington will cease to furnish you with water as provided in the past.

If there are any questions on this action, kindly contact me.

Please realize that this is a statement, that the town will terminate doing business with you as a customer, henceforth, unless the bill is paid in full. This is not a town matter."

If the lady's pet dog had suddenly turned on her, and bitten her, she couldn't have been shocked more completely. Four times a year, for many years, the lady had put on her bonnet, and had gone down to the bank and paid HER bill. It was a personal thing, something like visiting old friends, paying for HER part of the TOWN water.

Now it was suddenly reduced to an impersonal thing, no longer a part of her own town, but purely a business matter.

Well, we sympathize with the lady.

All persons who take town water first sign an agreement in which they have agreed to pay, in advance, for the service, if our memory serves us correctly. The lady of course, was paying after delivery, so the Town Manager is technically right.

We can't help commenting on the brisk tone of the letter. The lady resented it, and we think that it could possibly have accomplished the same work if the words had been slightly different.

Perhaps that is just what the Town Manager intended.

Gildart Chevrolet Company

Chevrolet Sales & Service

With location on Main street, Wilmington, Telephone 2411 and 576, the Gildart Chevrolet Company is modernly equipped and in addition to their services as authorized Chevrolet Sales and Service, they offer a complete repairing service on all makes of cars and trucks, also gasoline and motor oils.

The motor car buyer of today is a more critical purchaser than one of years past. The remarkable progress in engineering and construction year after year in this industry, has created an enormous market for the best in transportation and comfort at the lowest price. Because Chevrolet has met the demands of the people with cars and trucks of outstanding value; cars with the finest lines, perfection of mechanism and true riding comfort their products have become recognized as the cars without an equal in their respective ranges.

In the repair department of the Gildart Chevrolet company, "service" is the motto, which is backed by reputation, proving they render a real service. They have the finest mechanics to give your automobile whatever attention it needs. This service includes everything from making the smallest repair to completely overhauling or rebuilding your car, also body and fender work.

Mr. Gildart, the proprietor, deserves much credit for the up-to-date minute service which he is rendering the people of Wilmington and indeed the entire area.

Rubber From Oil

The first proposals in the United States for making synthetic rubber from petroleum were made by refinery chemists in 1931, but it was not until World War II demands became imperative that processes were perfected and put in large-scale use. U. S. production of synthetic rubber jumped from 8,000 tons in 1941 to a peak of 820,000 tons in 1945. Last year though not up to wartime level production came to an impressive 478,000 tons.

Boston (IES) - Massachusetts Republicans want Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., to run for Governor in case Governor Paul A. Dever seeks a third term. Congressman John F. Kennedy is expected

The Federal Wage and Hour Law permits employment of learners, apprentices and handicapped workers, when necessary to prevent curtailment of employment opportunities, at less than the 75-cent statutory minimum.

Washington (IES) - The Senate investigation of morals in the government is still spinning its wheels. The reason is that everyone connected with it, the investigators and the investigated all belong to the Friendly and Benevolent Protective Association of Office Holders.

Leesburg, Va. (IES) - Arthur Godfrey, whose friendly voice is heard by more humans than any man in history, did something here on his farm recently which probably did more for domestic tranquility than all of the appeals for unity on record. In his mild way he brought together over a cup of tea (Lipton's), President Truman, Bernard M. Baruch and Gen. George C. Marshall. Baruch and the President, long at odds, talked in the foursome for a while and then had a heart-to-heart talk together. Marshall and Godfrey are neighbors, Baruch was Godfrey's house guest and the President motored over from Washington. It's now Godfrey, the Great Pacifier, and we don't mean babies.

Poole's Home Bakery "foremost bakery in section"

MAIN STREET, WILMINGTON, TEL. 583

This is one of the foremost bakeries to be found anywhere in this section. Poole's Home Bakery has met with great favor with the public, by reason of the fact that the management has had wide experience in this line.

Everything in the bakery is kept clean, as it is the policy of Mr. Poole, not only to make pies, cakes and pastries that will pass inspection, but turn out products that are as near an approach to the highest perfection that modern machinery and up-to-date methods permit.

The standard of Poole's Home Bakery is the best grade flours, pure shortening, sugar, salt, cream and other ingredients mixed and baked under clean sanitary conditions by skilled workmen.

Their excellent service has brought this bakery much praise and commendation. The next time you are looking for pure food products we would advise you to visit Poole's Home Bakery and you will be more than satisfied.

In this review edition, we are pleased to compliment Poole's Home Bakery upon the wonderful pure food products which they are offering to the people of this section.

THE SPOTTED TOUCH-ME-NOT

Gusts of wind help many wild plants to scatter their seeds, but the Spotted Touch-Me-Not doesn't need the aid of passing breezes. Its seeds are locked inside small, oblong pods. At the slightest touch, the pods burst open, flinging seeds all around.

The pressure may come from the weight of a falling twig or from a bird brushing against the plant. Sometimes, too, the stem of the Touch-Me-Not itself may move just enough to jiggle the pod. Then it explodes, just as if some tiny hand had pulled a hidden trigger.

As a matter of fact, though, the pod doesn't always wait to be touched. The National Wildlife Federation says that there comes a moment when it can't remain closed any longer. As this state of ripeness, the pod bursts by itself.

The secret of the explosion is to be found in the way that the pod is built. It is constructed of an elastic plant material and made so it will open into five coils. When fully grown and ripe, it is ready to lose the shape of a pod and let its coils unwind. Instead of unfolding slowly, as the petals of a flower do, the coils jump out, as though they were tiny metal springs.

The plant which bears these amazing pods is a member of the jewel-weed family. Sometimes it stops growing at a height of two feet, but it may keep on until it is six feet tall. Spreading out from the main stalks are slender branches which bear long, narrow leaves, as well as the pods and delicate flowers.

The flowers are pale orange or gold, and they are dotted with reddish-brown freckles. Each bloom is about an inch long and rather slender. Deep inside is a generous have no trouble in reaching the ming birds, with their long bills, amount of nectar. Darting hummingbirds tempt sweetness. But bees have to force their way between the petals to get their share of the blossom's treasure.

While the flowers bloom from July thru September, you'll have to tramp to some out-of-the-way places to see them. With a liking for moist soil and shade, Spotted Touch-Me-Nots grow on low ground which stays met much of the time. Often they are found along ditches and streams and in damp woodlands.

According to the National Wildlife Federation, the plants thrive over a wide range of territory. They do well all the way from parts of lower Canada southward thru the United States to Florida and West to Missouri and Nebraska.

Interesting information about other wildlife species can be obtained by writing to the National Wildlife Federation, Washington 10, D. C.

THE REGAL MOTH

About twenty kinds of royal moths live in the United States. The largest of these is the Regal Moth. He is a colorful giant who can spread his wings until they stretch five to six inches from tip to tip.

The wings are divided into two parts - fore and hind. The forewings are olive-gray, spotted with yellow and lined with reddish-brown veins. The hind wings are orange-red, and they also have dark veins. The wings carry a short, thick body which is orange-red with pale yellow spots.

Early in the summer, the Regal Moth lays eggs on the leaves of trees and plants. The eggs hatch into caterpillars which feed on the leaves of hickory, butternut, black walnut, persimmon, and other trees.

The caterpillars have a name of their own. They are called Hickory-Horned Devils, because their bodies are covered with rows of spiny-black horns. Since the caterpillars are five inches long and so well armed, they look dangerous. But the National Wildlife Federation says they are really quite harmless.

Along about September, the Hickory-Horned Devil burrows into the ground. There he spends the winter and waits for June to roll around. He doesn't bother to wrap himself in a cocoon, as some caterpillars do, but slowly changes into the next form of his life - the pupa.

In June the pupa is ready to force its way out of the earth. The air and sunshine help it to grow and change. Soon it has the shape and size of a full-grown Regal Moth. It is ready to lay eggs and flit about during the long summer months.

Regal moths live over a wide area in the eastern half of the United States. They are found from Massachusetts to Illinois, and southward to Texas and Florida. Usually they stay near forests where they can lay their eggs and where their caterpillars can have plenty of leaves to eat.

This might lead some people to think that Regal Moths are destructive pests which harm forests. The National Wildlife Federation says this is not the case. There are not enough Regal Moths and caterpillars to do any great harm.

They are simply interesting, eye-catching inhabitants of the insect world. The leaves which they devour are hardly missed, and they themselves may furnish a meal now and then for hungry birds.

Interesting information about other wildlife species can be obtained by writing to the National Wildlife Federation, Washington 10, D. C.

The featured speaker at last week's Rotary Dinner, was Mrs. Ruth Gratcyk, of Grove Ave. Mrs. Gratcyk, a leader among the women of the Community was introduced by Millard Pipes, and her subject was "Live and Let Live: A Woman Looks at Racial Discrimination." Graciously but fearlessly, she not only attacked the idea of intolerance, but cited specific examples here in our town. The foolishness of prejudice is seen, she insisted, in the fact that one's position, racially and religiously, is almost wholly an accident of birth. Adults who practice discrimination are doubly accountable, for they not only in their attitude in error, but it is also communicated to their children.

Mrs. Gratcyk's message on discrimination was in the good old straight from the shoulder American manner, on a subject which concerns us all.

At a special meeting of the Congregational Church, held last Sunday, the Church voted to adopt the recommendation of the Parish House Committee, and build the new parish house in back of, and in line with the church, instead of at right angles to the church, as heretofore voted.

FETED AT PARTY

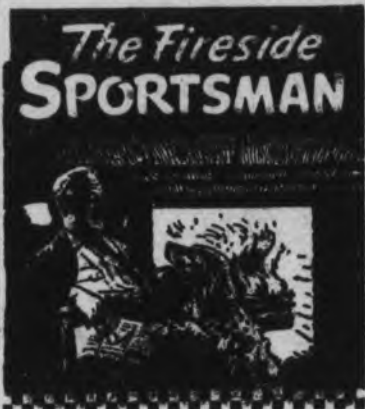

Approximately thirty friends and relatives from Everett, Charlestown and Wilmington, attended a surprise party in honor of the fifteenth birthday of Miss Joan Cushing, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Cushing of Brand Ave. The hostess for the evening was Mrs. Pearl Harrison of Kaplan Ave.

Miss Cushing celebrated her 15th birthday on Saturday, September 15. Many fine and useful gifts were received by the guest of honor, including clothes and a purse of money.

Refreshments were served, in the form of a weenie roast, with the usual trimmings of cake and ice-cream.

EXPANSION SALE SUCCESS

John Cafiso, manager-owner of the Silver Lake Hardware, has asked this paper to convey his thanks for the wonderful response received at his recent expansion sale. John stated that due to his sale and the advertising campaign that went with it, he enjoyed the opportunity of meeting many people, making new friends and showing to the public that his bigger establishment can handle all of their needs in the hardware, toy and sporting line. John stated that the response was so great that he plans to hold many more sales in the future to give the people of Wilmington as many extra values as possible.

Getting the Young Dog
Used to the Gun

My first act in training is to accustom the young dog to the report of a gun. I start with a litter just two or three months old. Every day, when I approach with their feed, I shoot a cap pistol, gradually firing closer and closer to their pen until, within a few days, I fire right over them as I set down their feed.

by J. Earl Buffin, professional dog trainer and one of the authors of the Purina Gun Dog Book

When they are thoroughly accustomed to the cap pistol, I graduate to a .22 calibre revolver which makes a little more noise. After I have used this for a while and am sure they are not shy of it, I take down the shotgun and let them see it and hear it, being careful not to get too close on the first report.

Thus my dogs are taught that there is nothing to fear from the gun but rather that it is associated with the pleasure of food.

When the puppy is 3 to 4 months old, I start giving him light yard "play" to accustom him to co-operating with me and to develop his natural pointing and retrieving tendencies. One thing I do is let the youngster point a squirrel hide on the lawn. (A bird would be better for this but cannot be used during the closed season.) The skin is tied with a string about 10 feet long to the end of a long stick or fishing pole. With this I drop the hide in front of the puppy's nose.

The rich game smell fills his nostrils and arouses his interest. I jerk it along in front of him, just out of his reach. Soon he learns he can't quite catch it and he follows his natural inborn instinct to point it instead.

While this exercise develops the pup's natural pointing instinct, it should not be carried on for more than a month or it is likely to result in false pointing of moving object which later catch the eye of the dog in the field.

YELLOW-BREASTED CHAT

If birds had circuses, one of the Yellow-Breasted Chat. A comical stars of the big top would be the fellow, he reminds you of a clown when he takes to the air, with his wings fluttering crazily and his legs dangling loosely beneath him.

What's more, he ranks second only to the mockingbird as an imitator. A solo by the Yellow-Breasted Chat is an amazing variety of clucks, quacks, mews, purrs, whistles, toots, and squawks. With short pauses between numbers he reels off a long concert of jerky songs and sounds.

To top it off, the Chat is an expert ventriloquist - the best in the bird kingdom. Just when you think you know where he is, the sounds begin to come from first one spot and then another. At last you discover that the clever bird has never moved at all, but has been throwing his voice here and there to fool you. He often uses the trick to lure intruders away from his nest.

The Yellow-Breasted Chat has one big drawback as a performer, says the National Wildlife Federation. He is much too shy ever to stay before an audience. Instead he hides in dense shrubs and tangled vines which are growing on hillsides and abandoned pastures.

If you get a quick glimpse of the Chat family, you will notice that both the male and the female are similar in appearance. Their upper parts are an olive-green tinged with brown. Bright yellow extends downward from the throat, fading out into white underneath.

Their most unusual mark is a white line above and below the eyes, giving them the appearance of wearing spectacles. The Chat's bill and feet also attract attention, because they are solid black.

The colorful bird spends his winters all the way from Mexico south to Costa Rica. When spring rolls around, he heads northward, sometimes stopping in Florida and other states on the Gulf of Mexico, but often going as far as Iowa, Montana and New England.

By May, the Chat family is settled for the season and building a bulky nest of dead leaves, grass, and bark shreds, with a lining of fine grass. The new home is located from three to five feet off the ground, in a small tree, a bush, or a thick vine. In it are laid four small white eggs which are spotted with brown.

When the eggs hatch, the Chat parents are busy, indeed, feeding themselves and their young. Insects are their favorite food, but they also eat berries and other fruit.

After a summer of rearing their families and performing their stunts of song and flight, the Yellow-Breasted Chats are off to their winter quarters. By August or early September, reports the National Wildlife Federation, they are southward bound.

A thin coat of self-polishing wax on wall paper or paint around the stove will give your walls excellent protection. Grease spots can be wiped off in a jiffy. The Stanley Home Service Center also advises using a thin coat around light switches, doors and doorways and any other places there are likely to be finger prints.

The American Tree Farm System started in 1941, has now spread to 30 states.

B. & M. SERVICE STATION

287 Main Street — Wilmington — Telephone 368

A. "Rusty" Brabant, Prop.

This is a very popular stopping place for local and out-of-town motorists as they offer a most convenient service. They feature excellent products which has attained an enviable reputation as being among the highest test gasoline and oils of the day. It makes no difference whether it is for the passenger car or truck, you will find that the B & M Service Station has fuel to suit your needs.

Expert lubrication service is also a feature at this station, and their advanced equipment makes it possible for them to lubricate your car while you wait.

Rusty Brabant, the efficient proprietor of this station, is a man who is well known and well liked in this vicinity, for his business methods are always above-board. To have a service station such as this one right in our very midst is a truly wonderful asset to any community.

Also featured here, is a full line of auto accessories and parts of all kinds, tires and batteries, and they have a pressure purger that puts a stop to over-heating radiators. If you are having trouble with your radiator, stop in at the B & M Service Station, and Rusty will be only too pleased to be of service to you.

Washington (IES) - The Vice President in case President Truman runs again was the topic of discussion among some monied party supporters. Their choice for the time being is John W. McCormack of Boston, Majority Leader of the House. This would unify dissidents in the North it is claimed. McCormack would be the first Roman Catholic in history to get this near the Presidency.

Washington (IES) - Bill Douglas, not Vinson, is now being rumored as next Secretary of State.

E. V. RONAYNE

59 Nichols Street, Wilmington, Tel. 2641

Serving The Public For 35 Years.

Since this particular business has come to be recognized as a most essential need in the life of a community, we feel that it should take its place in a review of this nature, giving to our readers a cross-section picture of the finer services available to our readers throughout this area.

Mr. Ronayne is noted for the completeness of his service, in moving, packing and storage. He has the most complete equipment and all goods transferred are insured while in transit.

Mr. Ronayne gives the same care and attention to each individual article, whether it be a costly baby grand piano or the smallest piece of bric-a-brac. The packing, crating, shipping or moving is done under the personal supervision of Mr. Ronayne, and with his well padded moving vans, you can rest assured that everything entrusted to his care will arrive at its destination in as good condition as when received.

With all goods insured while in transit, this concern is fully equipped to take care of any job whether it be a large one or a small job. You will find that they give the same careful attention in all their work, and they will definitely see to it that all goods are removed properly without mar or blemish, thus relieving their patrons of a great deal of worry and care.

CLARK'S STORE

Main St. So. Tewksbury, Tel. Wil. 366

We believe that because of the manner in which this very fine establishment, Clark's Store, has always been conducted, and because of the excellent line of products which they have to offer, this business review of our outstanding business enterprises, would certainly be amiss without prominent and definite mention being made of Clark's Store.

This is one establishment that features a complete line of provisions, name brand foods, fresh meats, canned goods of all descriptions, also imported products.

Adjoining the market is a first class liquor store, where you may obtain beers, wines and liquors of both domestic and foreign brands of authentic origin. If you are planning any party or any type of festival and would require products of this sort, then by all means, get in touch with Clark's Store and state what you want. You will find that everything will be supplied to you in an excellent manner and the charges will be most reasonable.

In this review edition, we would advise all our readers to get acquainted with Clark's Store on Main Street, South Tewksbury.

THE SCHOOL COMMITTEE MEETING

The Wilmington School Committee held its regular meeting, in the Roman House last Thursday. Routine Bills were signed. Maintenance man, John Russell was granted a leave of absence, on his written request from Sept. 27th to Dec. 1st 1951. The Whitefield Club was granted permission to use the Whitefield School for evening meetings, upon payment of a $5 fee for janitorial services.

Schools. Fire Drills under the direction of the Chief of the Fire Department are to be held during the present month, with discussions and comments. Later more drills will be held, without warning, as a check on safety precautions.

Center School. Some petty vandalism has been noted in the Center School. Some of the bars of the fire escape have been bent, and some near-injuries were reported as a result.

Mildred H. Rogers School. The Town Manager has advised the Superintendent of Schools that the Butler Engineering Company of Woburn has been granted a contract to repair and put in working condition the heating system of this school. The price was $1000 plus the right to remove all the old radiators etc. Radiators will be removed where Herman-Nelson heaters are installed, and the Herman-Nelson heaters will be corrected, where needed.

The Contractor agrees at some future date to increase the boiler capacity sufficiently to heat two additional rooms, if they are built. Some doubt was expressed by Committeeman Lynch of the rights about the contract. He cited Section 12, paragraph F & G, of the Town Charter. The Committee agreed that a clarification would be desirable, and thought that if possible, a joint meeting should be held with the Town Manager and the Town Council.

It was reported that other heating contractors had stated that the present boiler and stack are insufficient to adequately heat this school. Maple Meadow School. It was reported that complaints had been made that this school was not as clean as it could be. The committee agreed, that if possible, financially, a paint job should be done to the interior of this building, perhaps during the Christmas vacation.

School Janitors. Some discussion was had concerning School Janitors. The name of Mr. Wilbur Sparks was mentioned as a candidate for janitor of the Whitefield School and Maple Meadow School, and assistant to the High School Janitor.

Common & School Grounds. It was reported that the children are not leaving the School Grounds and Common in a neat condition, but are dropping papers etc. It was pointed out that this is a disciplinary problem, and that proper steps should be taken by the respective principals. A complaint about littering adjoining property was also considered.

Fluoridation of Water. It was reported that the Town Manager wanted the schools to possibly share in the expense of Fluoridation of Water, if this is to happen to town water. It was pointed out that not only school children involved, but that the Schools are already taking care of such a program for themselves. It was decided to lay this matter on the table.

School Library. The TM wants to know if there is any chance of combining the Town Library with the High School Library, possibly in the High School. No decision was reached on this, but the Committee was not in favor of having the High School open after hours, for library services, because of the difficulty of properly guarding the High School.

Heating Timer. There was some discussion about a device which was called a heating timer, which was supposed to have been installed some time past in order to be able to heat the Roman House independently of the High School, but using the High School plant. This timer was not available until very recently, and meanwhile the books on the High School have been closed, and there is no money at present available to pay for this.

Junior High School. Fluorescent Lights, with 5-way switches are to be installed in the Junior High School by the White Electric Company of Dorchester for the sum of $848. It was pointed out that a light at present in this school was the property of Paul Dayton.

Buzzell School. A letter has been received from John Moynahan, under the date of Sept. 17th that he has inspected the new roof of the Buzzell School, and that it meets his approval.

New Amplifier. A letter from Larry Cushing, relative to safety education of the School Children, led to a discussion of the advisability of buying an amplifier. It was pointed out that such an amplifier could serve a dual purpose, helping on sports, on the common. Mr. Good stated that if the committee wished to buy something like this it should be of sufficient power. A 12 Watt amplifier would be insufficient, and at least 40 watts should be used. There would not be a great difference in cost, and the benefits of student control, at bus loadings, on windy days would be worth the difference.

High Holy Days. It was voted to allow two teachers three days off with pay, for religious reasons.

Football Codes. A letter from the Massachusetts Association of School Committees concerning Football Codes was read.

High School Secretary. Mrs. Eleanor F. Day, the present acting secretary, was voted in as the new High School Secretary, on motion of Miss Grimes.

High School Librarian. There were two applications for the position of High School Librarian. It was voted to lay this on the table, pending discussion of libraries with the Town Manager. Mrs. Gertrude Condrey is to continue her temporary position, pending further action.

High School Cafeteria. There were three applicants for the position open in the High School Cafeteria. Mrs. George DeLisle was voted into this vacancy on motion of Mr. Lynch.

The present employees are Mrs. Bousfield, Mrs. Flight and Mrs. Welling, and these ladies have been paid from the receipts of the cafeteria. They have been working 6 hours a day, and are providing 300 lunches a day at present. The fourth person is to be employed about Oct. 1st, when the hot soup program is to begin.

Paul Blackjohn. The resignation of Paul Blackjohn from the High School Staff, effective Oct. 5th was accepted with regrets, on motion of Mr. Lynch.

Increases in Pay. A letter was received from the Misses Pauline and Lena Leiter, announcing that they now held the degrees of Master of Education. In accordance with scheduled payrolls, these ladies now receive an extra $100 a year, each.

Mathematics Teacher. On motion of Mr. Lynch, Mr. Robert F. Barrett was elected teacher of Mathematics in the High School. Mr. Barrett graduated from Boston College in 1951. Salary $2300.

English Teacher. Allan R. Harris was elected English Teacher, at a salary of $2300 on a motion of Mr. Nitchie. Mr. Harris is a graduate of Duke.

Carl U. Harvey. A letter, a petition for reinstatement by Carl U. Harvey, a former teacher in Wilmington High School, was tabled.

The meeting adjourned at 11:35 p. m.

Use a nylon bristle hair brush when washing children's hair. Nylon bristles do a wonderful job of getting sand, salt and dust from around the hairline, back of the neck and other spots difficult to clean properly with one's hands. The strokes of a brush tend to keep the lather out of children's eyes. Even when hands are wet and slippery, it is always possible to get a good grip on the molded handles of Stanley brushes.

TOWN NOTES

RAINFALL

It was a perfect week, up to Sunday at 8 a.m. according to reports coming from the Wilmington Weather Works. No rain all week, wonderful weather, warm sunshine and pleasant breezes. A wonderful week in which to have a two-week vacation. There was a trace of rain recorded Sunday morning.

GREER PLANT

The Greer Warehouse looks ready for use. The building, on the outside, is completed, and a hot-top driveway has been laid from the street, around the building, to the loading platform.

EAMES STREET WATER

The 10 inch Water Main, which the town was laying, for the Greer Plant runs about a point 100 yards from Main Street, thereby surmounting, or nearly surmounting, the major obstacle towards getting water into the very southern part of Wilmington. Last year the Water Extension Committee estimated at $26,600 the cost of getting water down Eames Street, before it would reach any revenue producing sites. From here on, most of the work will be relatively easy, and South Wilmington residents should be able to get water now, within a few years at the most. We shudder however, when we think of the people living on Cook Hill. To get water up Cook Hill will call for going through involved solid rock, and will be a tedious and expensive process. However, it is several years yet before that problem will have to be faced by the Water Department.

We feel that we should report that the arrangement, which worked so well, between the town and the Greer Company is that the town should pay for the digging, and the company pay for the pipe. We haven't had that word officially, but that is how we believe the story runs, and it has worked out very nicely.

FALL WEATHER

Of course the elm trees have been shedding their leaves for several weeks past, and the poison ivy leaves have been colored for some time, but no other than that we haven't had too many signs of fall. Having no frost has helped the late growing crops, but we have had only one report of cantaloupes so far. Is there only one back yard gardener in Wilmington who tried this fruit this year?

TULIPS ETC.

Now is the time to plant your tulip bulbs, together with others of the same nature. Your editor has not bothered with any for several years, but he feels the tulip urge coming on him again.

Have you your Community Chest Sticker in your window?

PRANKS

Wilmington Juveniles are getting the most out of life, to the annoyance of many of the citizens of the town. We have reported the numerous stonings and broken windows that has occurred in various parts of town. The last prank of which we heard was of someone prying wide the iron bars in the fire-escape of the Center School. We understand that a serious injury was averted only by good luck, as a result of this prank.

PIPELINE EMPLOYEES

Wilmington residents have seen a few of the pipeline employees around, although the major scene of operations is now to the east of this town. Several good stories have resulted. One concerns a pipeline employee who returned, in a drunken condition to his room, which he had rented from a local lady. He will never try it again, according to the reports of what happened.

Several of our fellow citizens have commented on the earnings of these men. Many of them earn in the neighborhood of $100 or more a week and also receive expense account checks every other week. One such expense account check was reported to be $185. Whether or not this was typical we have no way of knowing.

Quite a few of these men, most of whom are unmarried, are thinking of going to French Morocco, to work on air-bases which the U. S. Air Force is installing there. The present work should be finished in a few weeks.

Production of crude oil in the United States went above the six-million-barrel-a-day mark for the first time in history during the week ending April 14, 1951. Petroleum and natural gas provided 54 per cent of the nation's energy supply in 1950, reaching the staggering total of 19 quadrillion B.t.u.'s.

Force Breaking to Retrieve

After the puppy that won't retrieve naturally has had a couple of months of field work and is eight or ten months old, you can safely force break him to retrieve.

by J. Earl Butkin, professional dog trainer and one of the authors of the Purina Gun Dog Book

Hold the gag just in front of his mouth, pinch his ear and tell him to "fetch!" If he doesn't reach for the block, pinch him harder and force his head toward it. The instant he reaches out and takes the gag, release the pressure on his ear. He quickly learns that by taking the block he can stop the pain. Now begin holding it farther and farther away and closer to the ground when he reaches for it. After that step is learned, rest one end on the ground and finally induce him to take it while it is lying flat.

This training, of course, will have to be spread over a number of lessons. Worked in with these instructions will be lessons on carrying the gag. When the pup takes the gag, make him follow you a few paces and deliver it into your hand. At first you will find it better to lead him with a light cord attached to his collar. Later, you can drop the cord and let him drag it.

The next step is to roll out the gag and make him take a few steps to retrieve it. You may have to pinch his ear and start him off in the right direction at times, but he will soon learn what you want.

The whole process so far has been work for him and he hasn't liked it very much. Occasionally he will have gone sour on the performance and sulked or tried to run off. You must bring him back firmly but when he has been forced to complete one of his lessons to your satisfaction, he should have plenty of petting and praise and may be rewarded with an occasional tid-bit.

When you have gone this far, the hard part is over. You begin tossing the gag out into the weeds where the pup must use his nose to find it. As he gets better, he will forget that he is working and learn that retrieving is fun.

A good way to polish off your dog's retrieving work, whether he took to it naturally or by force training, is to let him get the feel of feathers. Either tie chicken wing feathers around the gag—or better yet—use a dead pigeon with its wings tied down to protect the body.

Your dog will like the taste in his mouth, which will increase his interest in finding dead game in the field. The use of the pigeon will also allow you to detect any tendency to crush the bird and give you a chance to correct it.

When serious delay in the delivery of new boiler equipment threatened to curtail an East Coast refinery's ability to produce vital military aviation fuel, a dozen steam locomotives were run onto an adjacent siding and hooked through manifold lines to the refinery's main steam system. The locomotives generated steam around the clock and enabled the plant to meet its commitments to the military. This is another example of the ingenuity displayed by the oil industry to serve the military and the American people.

Washington (IES) - Cattle demand is so great and the population is increasing so fast in proportion to the grazing land available that beef for the consumer is going promise is now possible with the to stay in the luxury class, government economists agree. There is only one solution available for cheap beef for the public and that is the importation of beef from Argentina, where great ranges are still being used. The Argentine produces beef as good or better in quality than our own. The U.S. could give the Argentine cattle raisers better prices than any other nation. Only politics stands in the way. No com-Perons. But at home neither Di-Salle nor any other government official can promise low prices for prime beef.

Why are people so thoughtless about burning rubbish? Again and again fires get away and burn hundreds of acres. Sparks land on a shingle roof or beneath a shed and somebody's house goes up. If your town has a public dump, take your rubbish there. If you must burn it elsewhere, get a permit from your fire chief. The safest place is in the middle of a plowed field. The safest time is on a rainy day or just at dusk when the dew begins to fall. The safest rubbish burner? There is none.

FREE SUBSCRIPTIONS FOR WILMINGTON SERVICEMEN

The Wilmington Crusader, and the Wilmington Post, 136, of the American Legion have made an agreement which, they hope, will provide every serviceman from Wilmington with his weekly copy of his home town news. Both organizations have been concerned with the fact that it is a difficult thing to send all the news to the boys in the ranks from the old home town, and they feel that a subscription to Wilmington's newspaper should help to keep the boys in touch with home.

The American Legion, Wilmington Post is paying for these subscriptions, which the Crusader is selling to them at a reduced price.

Here's your chance, Mothers Dads, Sweethearts and Wives! All you have to do is to send the name and address of Your Man In The Service to Arthur Harper, American Legion Post 136, Wilmington, Mass., and the American Legion will do the rest. A Penny Post Card will do the trick. The reduced subscription rate is not available except to the American Legion.

B & M RR FARES

The Public Utilities Commission has agreed to open the hearings on B & M RR Fare Increases, to the T. M. and the Board of Selectmen have approved of the T. M.'s plans to appear, at a future date.

WILMINGTON

Low bidders for the construction of Veteran's Housing Project at Wildwood and Woburn Sts., Wilmington, were announced today in Gainey's Construction News, daily New England building industry report.

Edward Goverman, Roxbury, bid $156,000. Other bids submitted include Paul Livoli, Watertown, $165,245; and Frankini Construction Co., Medford, $169,000.

Saul E. Moffie of Cambridge is architect for the 13 unit project.

THIRD CLASS GARAGE DENIED

An application, by Louis Mercurio of Boston, for the right to conduct a business as a third class auto dealer has been denied by the Board of Selectmen. Mercurio proposed to conduct his business in a lot to the rear of Dr. Fagan's home, on Clark Street.

FOOTBALL TEAM WINS

The 1951 football squad of Wilmington High played their first game at Burlington last Saturday. Coach O'Doherty's boys produced some of their hidden quality by beating Burlington 24-0. Carrying the pigskin over for Wilmington were H. Draper, A. Ethier and J. Melzer; Ethier scoring twice. Spirit and teamwork went hand in hand and could not be equalled by Burlington. Wilmington's forces played excellent defensive ball. The coach expects to further improve the offense and defense to perfection. Next Saturday Coach O'Doherty expects to have his team in top shape when it meets Somerville Trade at home.

BELOVED RESPECT PAID JOHN B. FIOIA

Last rites for John B. Fiola who died suddenly last Saturday noon while at work at the Calco Industry's garage in Arlington. The funeral was held from the Joseph B. McMahon Funeral Home in Wilmington, Wednesday morning. Services were held in the St. Thomas of Villanova Church, Wilmington. The mass of requiem was sung by the Reverend John Regan, and burial took place in the Sacred Heart cemetery in Lawrence. Rev. Emile Archambault S. M. of Sacred Heart Parish officiating at the committal.

METHODIST CHURCH NEWS:

The fall program at the Methodist Church is now in full operation. Last Sunday attendance at church school was over the 150 mark. Next Sunday is Rally Sunday both in the church school and at morning worship. All young people who expect to attend during this year are urged to be present on this day. At the morning worship service a special recognition service for church school teachers will be held. The pastor will preach on the subject: "Education For Life." A Baptism Service will be held.

Small children may be cared for in the nursery provided during church time by competent leaders.

Monday, Oct. 1, 1951 the Lynn District Conference will be held in Belmont at the First Methodist Church. A delegation from the Methodist Church is leaving for Belmont at 7:00 p. m. Monday.

Thursday at 7:00 p. m. the Junior High Hobby Club will meet at the church. At 8:00 p. m. Thursday the Choir will rehearse.

Friday and Saturday, members of the Senior Methodist Youth Fellowship will hold a retreat at Ashbury Grove in Hamilton. The retreat will be under the general direction of the new Asst. Pastor, the Rev. John Radmore.

Saturday the Rev. Mr. Maxfield will be the keynote speaker at a conference of men representing the New England Conference of the Methodist Church at Rolling Ridge, the Conference Center in North Andover, Mass.

Beginning Sunday, Oct. 7, at 7:00 p. m. the Methodist Church will hold a series of evening services running until Thanksgiving. Special music will be provided each evening and the Pastor will preach a series of sermons on the Beatitudes entitled: "Ladder of Light." Members of the community are invited to attend these services.

AUXILIARY FIREMEN

Applications are still being accepted for Auxiliary firemen. Any man between the ages of 21 and 50 who is interested should file application at the fire house. George Cushing will begin another class in instruction on fire-fighting in the near future.

RETURNS HOME

Mrs. William Hoffman of Woburn St., returned home recently after enjoying a three-weeks vacation in Maine and New Hampshire.

CELEBRATES BIRTHDAY

Miss Joanne Lally, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lally of 11 High St., celebrated her fourth birthday recently with a party at her home.

The room in which the party was conducted was decorated with pink and white streamers and rosettes, while the table was beautifully set with pink and white. Each young guest received favors of candy and balloons and refreshments were served.

Many fine and useful gifts were received by the guest of honor, including a large blackboard from her parents.

Among the guests present, was Joanne's grandmother, who came from Boston to help celebrate the occasion.

COAST GUARD

Charles F. Walsh, engineman third class, USCG, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Walsh of 16 Aldrich Rd., Wilmington, is serving aboard the icebreaker USCGC Eastwind, with the Atlantic Fleet.

Walsh, who entered the Coast Guard in April, 1948, received his recruit training at the U. S. Coast Guard Training Station, Mayport, Florida.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

The church school board will meet at the parsonage on Thursday at 8:00 p.m.

At a special meeting of the church last Sunday it was voted to accept the proposed design for the new parish house in its general external features, a direct extension to the rear of the church instead of an L-shaped structure. The committee in charge will welcome any suggestions from parishioners regarding the arrangement of the interior space, before the contracts are finally let out.

FUNERAL

Funeral services were held on Wednesday followed by a High Mass of Requiem at St. Thomas Church, for John B. Fiola 68, who died suddenly at his work in Arlington.

Mr. Fiola resided on Ayotte St., and is survived by his wife, Josephine; two sons, Orvid of Manchester, N. H., and Albert of Lawrence, three daughters, Isabelle Pellerin of Wilmington, Alice Saulnier of Lawrence and Blanche Monahan of California; two brothers Adelard of Lawrence and Leon of Arlington; one sister, Mrs. James P. Meehan of Lawrence; several grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

GRAND OPENING

of McLAUGHLIN'S Rexall Drug Store

SEPTEMBER 27, 28, 29

Dear Friends:

We're pleased as we can be and here's why. The carpenters and painters are all done. No more inconveniences, just a sparkling new semi-self service, modern drug store where, as always, you are king.

Naturally, all of this calls for a little celebrating, so we are inviting you to attend our grand opening on September 27, 28, and 29. There'll be free perfume and powder for the ladies... free ice cream and balloons for the kiddies and free gifts for the men, plus plenty of special merchandise at "shout about" prices.

So, come on down and help us celebrate!

After all, you folks are the ones who really built our store. That kind of makes it your store... and that is the way we want to keep it... your friendly Rexall Drug Store. Watch for our circulars in the mail containing information about our free gifts, door prizes and special items. Call Wilmington 361, if you don't receive one.

cordially,
